CAT IS "AUNTY"

NOT "CHARLEY"

You may be wondering what a grinning cat has to do with the plot of "Charley's Aunt" with Syd Chaplin which is to be shown at The Elba Theatre, Feb. 24 and 25. The answer is, nothing.

But behind the cat is an interesting story of the success of "Charley's Aunt" and its continuous run on the stage for upward of thirty-three years. It seems that when "Charley's Aunt" was first produced in England some one connected with the theatre used as an advertisement a picture of a grinning black cat sitting up on its haunches grinning. Around its neck was a collar reading "Charley's Aunt," and underneath was the line "Funny enough to make a cat laugh."

The play was an instantaneous hit. It was put on in London and played in one theatre for over four years. The black cat came to be symbolic and was taken up by the press. The luck of "Charley's Aunt" is known that the play made a fortune for W. S. Penley, the English star who first played the role. It made millions for its author, Brandon Thomas. When companies began to go out in foreign countries playing "Charley's Aunt" they would no more think of going out with out the cat advertisement than they would have gone without taking "Charley's famous skirt and wig."

So when the film was produced director Scott Lindsey thought there would be no harm at least in sticking to the lucky cat. There was never a scene shot without a black cat being on the stage at the Christie studio. Whether the cat had anything to do with it or not, the film turned out to be a winner. The studio cat was taken to the first preview of the picture in South Pasadena while the picture was being cut. The audience simply screamed and yelled with mirth.

Perhaps the lucky cat had something to do with it; perhaps not. "Charley," as the cat was named, was moved from the stage to the cutting rooms when the picture reached that stage of its development.

But now comes the epilogue: The day after the last titles were written and the picture was cut, "Charley" became the proud mother of nine black kittens.

They should have named him "Auntie."

For each additional two feet, in length one additional seat shall be provided.

(e) Over the pit shall be placed a concrete slab containing the seat riser. The slab shall be bedded in fresh cement mortar, so as to provide a tight joint between the ground and the seat. This flue shall be securely cemented into the slab and shall be screened at the top or bottom with No. 16 mesh copper or bronze screen wire. At the top there shall be a ventilating - conical cap which diameter shall be such as to provide 1 1/2 inches over hand. The roof of the house shall be so flashed as to prevent leakage around this flue pipe. The excavated earth from the pit shall be banked up around the slab in a manner to prevent the entrance of surface water. (It is advised to cover this banked earth with planking under the over-hand of the roof to prevent washing by roof dripping.

7. The present privy building, if sufficiently substantial may be used to set over the new pit. When this is done, the walls of the privy shall be extended to the surface of the ground.

8. When the pit contents reach within 18 inches of the top of the pit, the building shall be removed, the old compartment filled with earth and a new pit dug, or the contents shall be bailed or pumped out and carried to a suitable place and buried with at least 18 inches of earth covering. The contents shall not be used as garden compost.

9. (a) The pit shall not be used for reception of liquid house waste, such as dish water, laundry water, etc. (b) Lids of seat shall be kept closed and the seats shall be kept soap and water clean.

11. A can of concentrated lye, or a small amount of air-slaked lime shall be put into each pit once a week to prevent an acid-condition of the contents and the attendant odors.

12. In case the pit should cave at any time, it shall be repaired promptly. All repairs necessary to make the privy building fly-proof shall be made whenever needed.

Extensive experiments and thousands of practical tests by farmers and breeders over all the country have shown beyond a shadow of a doubt that a well-bred animal will make a far greater profit than the scrub. In fact, many cases the purebred has made a real profit, the scrub, under the same conditions, has shown a loss.

A SAD DEATH.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morrow deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their little son, who died last Saturday afternoon, enroute to a Montgomery hospital. The little fellow had been ill only a day or so, and his condition was so serious an attempt was made to get him to a specialist, but he died just a few minutes before reaching the hospital.

The body was brought back to Elba and funeral services were held Sunday and the body laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery. The bereaved family has the sympathy of scores of friends.

Mrs. C. P. Lee, of Montgomery, is spending a few days with Elba relatives this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson visited in Enterprise Sunday.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DARLING ONE.

On Saturday night, Feb. 6th, 1926, the death angel called and took away our darling one, who was 10 months and 19 days of age. It seemed bitterly against our wills, but we believe it belonged to the Lord and He wished it to have a better home than we could prepare for it.

So this sad day, we called it away to Him to stay. But we sincerely pray, To find the golden way, To this sweet day, The kind thoughts are still in our hearts, And we pray to meet it again, never to part.
It's Relatives.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank each and every one who was so kind to assist us during the sickness and death of our darling baby. We also want to thank Drs. Braswell, Hayes and Rankin for their assistance, as we feel that everything was done in medical aid that was possible. Chalmers & Icie Blackmon.

the greatest number of credits at the close of the campaign on March 12—just four more weeks. These credits are obtained by selling subscriptions to the Elba Clipper and by clipping the FREE credit coupons appearing in the Clipper today. There is no better time to make a decision on your fortune than today—NOW! Decide at once that you want to enter and share in this grand $3,000 prize distribution.

Get In Right Now. This is a special invitation for you to participate in this campaign. It is of such short duration that immediate action is necessary. Remember that this is not a "bait and switch" game, but a straight-forward business proposition. Some-one in Coffee County or surrounding territory is going to win that splendid Hudson Coach and Chevrolet Touring and the other prizes. This someone may just as well be you. In any event you will lose by trying, as every candidate will be paid for his or her time.

Stand In Your Name At Once. Participants are expected and urged to send in their own nomination blanks. This is not "please vote for me" proposition. It is Salesmanship to the 11th degree, and the best salespeople—men and women of determination, ambition and hustle—will be paid for their time as they never dreamed of being paid before.

Next Count Saturday. The credits will be counted again Saturday evening at 10 o'clock and the results sent by bulletin to all active candidates.

The count Wednesday evening, the result of which is found on this page, includes all credits polled up to 9 o'clock that evening. Hereafter the credits will be counted twice each week. Wednesday night for the Thursday paper, and Saturday night for the bulletins on Monday.

Turn in every available subscription between now and this coming Saturday night and boost your standing. The Clipper office will remain open until 8 o'clock evenings for the convenience of those who cannot report earlier. Candidates residing outside of the city should send their reports by special delivery mail in the self addressed envelopes furnished. There are only 9 days left of the first period, and then the big credits positively will be discontinued for once and for all time.

Liberality Galore. This is the high mark of compensation which is offered you in the Clipper's Sales Club. Right behind her, in second place, is Miss Edelle Bryant, of Elba, and following close, in third position, is Miss Miriam Russ, also of Elba.

The race is extremely close, in view of the fact that it started rather evenly. Everybody's chance at the Grand Prize is very evenly divided now, but the pace is getting hot. Who will the winners be? Answers: The candidates who cannot get out and keep their courage. It will be noted that the list is diminishing down to actual workers. Those whose names do not appear dropped out by not reporting at least two subscriptions each week, according to the rules.

With but three more days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday in which to turn in subscriptions and receive the maximum credits for the same, and with but three more weeks to go before the race comes to a close, interest in the campaign is approaching fever heat.

Each candidate realizes that the prizes, stipends in value, lay practically in reach, either so be claimed for his or her very own or forfeited to more aggressive opponents during the next three weeks, depending to a major extent on the efforts being put forth while the big credits are being issued.

Don't Forget This. Now, let's figure this thing out. Get a pencil and paper and get down to brass tacks. First put down the value of the Grand Capital Prize—a 1926 Hudson Coach worth $1,385.00. For second prize, a Chevrolet touring car at $630.00. Note that the difference in the value of these two awards is $755.00—a sum equal to 8 months' wages of the average head of the family, and more than 69 times the average of the poor.

It's a Great Sport to Be A Booster and the world scores a knocker, so we hide our hammer and blow our horn. When the Creator had made all things there were still some disagreeable things to do, so He made the beasts, the insects, and the poisonous reptiles; when these were finished He had some scraps left that were too bad to put into the rattlesnake, the scorpion, the hyena and the skunk, so He put all these together, covered it with suspicion wapped it with jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak and called it a knocker. So we're boosters; we're boosting for this town, for the people in it and

The bars are up! The track is clear; the preliminaries are over! The Clipper's Mammoth $3,000 in Prizes Greater Clipper Campaign is on in earnest. The race for the high awards, headed by two of America's foremost motor cars and everyone possesses it to a greater or less extent—but ambition is a fine quality to possess, and everyone possesses it to a greater or less extent—but ambition is only an indication of desire—ACTION is the fulfillment of that desire.

Never again after Saturday night, Feb. 20th will it be possible to secure the full credit records will be broken with the ending of the epochal First Period. Never before in a history of this campaign have so many credits been issued for subscriptions. Never again will it be possible to secure as many ballots as now. TO WIN or NOT WIN is the question of the hour.

Candidates, Attention! The crucial test is now at hand. If you ever intend doing anything in this race, DO IT NOW. Instead of being in second, third, fourth or fifth place, get to the top and stay there. Now is the time to secure an insurmountable supply of records. Now is the time to make reasonably sure of the prize you most desire. Ambition is a fine quality to possess, and everyone possesses it to a greater or less extent—but ambition is only an indication of desire—ACTION is the fulfillment of that desire.

A Million Credits Is Easily Secured.

Here's an example of how easy it is to get over a MILLION credits in The Elba Clipper's $3,000.00 Salesmanship Club Campaign.

100,000 credits are allowed on each ten-year subscription to The Clipper, provided the same is turned into campaign headquarters before the close of the First Credit Period, 10 o'clock p. m., this coming Saturday.

Seven 10-year subscriptions, amounting to $70 in business, would entitle you to 700,000 REGULAR Credits, and according to the rules of the campaign of issuing 100,000 EXTRA Credits with every $20 turned in (the $70 would constitute three "clubs") you would be entitled to 300,000 EXTRA Credits.

This number added to the 700,000 REGULAR Credits, would make a total of 1,000,000 credits for just 7 10-year orders to the Clipper. Therefore, the seven 10-year orders, or its equal in shorter term orders, would mean over a Million Credits. Easy enough, isn't it?

Haven't you 7 friends who would help you to the extent of a 10-year subscription, either new or renewal, to the Elba Clipper toward winning that luxurious $1,385 Hudson Coach? Of course you have. See them today.

After Saturday the credit schedule goes DOWN, DOWN, down, and the voting power of subscriptions is tremendously reduced. Therefore look after and protect your personal interest now.

With all reports not yet in for Wednesday evening count the standings are reported below.

So close are they arrayed that it is anyone's race—just a few "clubs" and the lowest one in the race could be in the lead and it is up to the individual members and their friends to improve their chances for the grand prize before the end of the First Period.

With but three more days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday in which to turn in subscriptions and receive the maximum credits for the same, and with but three more weeks to go before the race comes to a close, interest in the campaign is approaching fever heat.

Each candidate realizes that the prizes, stipends in value, lay practically in reach, either so be claimed for his or her very own or forfeited to more aggressive opponents during the next three weeks, depending to a major extent on the efforts being put forth while the big credits are being issued.

The date for the state-wide farmers co-operative marketing meeting in Montgomery has been changed from Feb. 18th to March 9th.

Largest Farmers Conference in History of Alabama. A number of times great delegations of farmers have met in the Capital City and resolved and promised to do great things, but this conference at Montgomery March 9th will be composed of only those whose faith has been tested. One thousand active workers in co-operative marketing will meet and lay plans for another period of years.

Best Talent In World To Be Present. The greatest champion among farmers today is President Coolidge who knows by experience the needs of farmers all over the American Union. The next greatest champion for co-operative endeavor among farmers is the Congress of the United States which body recently passed a new Co-operative Marketing Act which will greatly strengthen the activities of farm organizations throughout America.

So we do not lack for leadership and backing in the great work of bettering market conditions on the farm. Great men who have pioneered in this righteous cause will be at the Montgomery meeting and offer words of inspiration and courage to Alabama farmers who for four years have been taking part in co-operative marketing.

We Want 100 Farmers From Coffee County. Coffee County is a leader in all things. We have the best lands in the state and more of them than other counties. We have absolutely the highest, best and purest type of white farmers of any county in America—more of them. We are beginning to lead in schools and roads, and the farmers will see that Coffee leads in numbers at the Montgomery meeting. All members from each county will be seated in a body and when the leading progressive county of Alabama is called our spokesman will not cry out "24 votes for Underwood" but "100 votes for Coffee County and co-operative marketing."

Let every farmer arrange to rise early on the morning of March 9th, crank his Lizzie and with three or four neighbors set out for the Greatest One Day farmers meeting in the history of Alabama.
